EAST EUROPEAN ACCESSIONS LIST

Vol. 1, No. 10

AUGUST 1952

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
WASHINGTON: 1952

Introduction

The East European Accessions List is a record of Eastern European monographic and serial publications issued since January 1, 1939, and currently received by the Library of Congress. Imprints of the following countries as well as publications issued elsewhere in the language of these countries are included:

Albania	Latvia*
Bulgaria	Lithuania*
Czechoslovakia	Poland
Estonia*	Rumania
Hungary	Yugoslavia

Publications in Russian are excluded since they are listed in the Monthly List of Russian Accessions. Newspapers currently received will be listed in an annual supplement.

Arrangement of entries: Entries are arranged by country in separate lists of monographs and periodicals. Monographs in series will be entered only in the list of monographs. Both monographic and periodical entries are grouped under general subjects in the following order based on the Library of Congress Classification:

- | | |
|-------------------------------|---|
| 1. General Works | 10. Fine Arts |
| 2. Philosophy and Religion | 11. Language and Literature |
| 3. History | 12. Science |
| 4. Geography and Anthropology | 13. Medicine |
| 5. Social Sciences | 14. Agriculture—Plant and Animal Industry |
| 6. Political Science | 15. Technology |
| 7. Law | 16. Military and Naval Sciences |
| 8. Education | 17. Bibliography and Library Science |
| 9. Music | |

Information provided: Each monograph is listed in the original language or in transliteration, followed by a translation of the title or an annotation in English descriptive of the publication.

The entries for periodicals follow the A. L. A. Cataloging Rules for Author and Title Entries and are in the original language or in transliteration. The name of the issuing body is provided in parentheses if not apparent from the title. A translation of the title, or an annotation descriptive of the periodical, its frequency of issue, and a note indicating regularly included features are provided in English. This is followed by a list of contents in English translation for each issue received. This contents note consists of each author's last name and initials, followed by an English translation of the title and the page citation. Free rather than exact translations are used whenever necessary to reflect as accurately as possible the nature of the article. Regularly included features listed in the entry and articles of relatively little importance are omitted from the contents.

The East European Accessions List is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Price, 30 cents a copy; subscription price, $3.00 a year domestic, $4.00 a year foreign.

* To be included as soon as staff is available.

A survey of up-to-date fishing and biological researches made by the Oceanographic Institute in the waters of the channels of the Croatian Litoral. p. 137. K. Viets. Marine Halacaridae and Hydrachnellae (Acari) from the Dalmatian coast near Split. p. 147.

13. MEDICINE

MILITARY-MEDICAL REVIEW. (Yugoslavia. Armija. Sanitetska uprava) Beograd. [A monthly in Serbo-Croatian, issued under the title Vojno-sanitetski preglad by the Medical Service of the Yugoslav Army]

Contains regularly: Summaries in foreign languages; Communications; Case reports; Some observations of troops; Through our medical journals.

Vol. 7, no. 1-2, Jan.-Feb. 1950.

Contents:-J. Studic. An analysis in 1948 of clinical material in the Department for Chest Diseases at the General Military Hospital. p. 5. A. Deak. Inspection and treatment of patients at the Polyclinic Department of the General Military Hospital. p. 7. K. Brankovan. The effect on leptomeninges afflicted with tubercular meningitis treated with streptomycine. p. 20. B. Jelinek. An evaluation of the value of our antityphoid vaccine. p. 29. L. Lastavica. The atomic bomb; a description of the construction of the bomb and its explosive effect. p. 45. D. Drndarski. Local application of streptomycine by means of multiple injections in specific lesions. p. 50.

Vol. 8, no. 1-2, January-February 1951.

Contents:-K. Rajic. Calcium gluconate and its stabilizers in supersaturated solutions for parenteral injections. p. 3. I. Wesley. The stimulation of erythropoiesis by cobalt and its inhibition. p. 9. P. Lah. Theoretical and practical observations on the Rh-factor. p. 12. Z. Cvetkovic. Transportation of the sick and wounded and first aid in trenches. p. 15. P. Ganz. Method of preparation of a dry nutrient medium. p. 23. A. Mezic. Aspects of hospital organization in foreign countries. p. 24. D. Dimitrijevic. The dry Wilson-Blair nutrient medium (a simple method of preparation). p. 31.

Vol. 8, no. 5-6, May-June 1951.

Contents:-T. Price. Diaphragmatic hernia. p. 137. D. Oberzon. Epidemic hepatitis. p. 140. B. Jelin. Intra-hospital infections, their importance and prevention. p. 151. E. Vajs. The absorption of glucose in the colon. p. 156. I. Levi. Some experiences in the practice of specialists on troops during 1950. p. 159. B. Radojicic. A case of septic erysipelas complicated by multiple pulmonary abscesses. p.

Vol. 8, no. 7-8, July-August 1951.

Contents:-A general review on the progress of war surgery during World War II. p. 225. H. Blicakic. The necessary sanitary equipment of camps in river and waterless areas, based on current experience. p. 232. I. Papo. A case of permanent hyperglycemia. p. 236. A. Deak. Some problems of medical service for troops, from the polyclinic point of view. p. M. Antic. The use of radioactive isotopes in medicine. p. 246. A. Mezic. The organization of isolation wards for contagious diseases in hospitals of foreign countries. p. 253.

Vol. 8, no. 9-10, September-October 1951.

Contents:-D. Mestrovic. Nine years since the first congress of partisan medical officers. p. 291. I. Kralj. Significance of statutes for the medical services of the National Liberation War and the partisan forces of Yugoslavia. p. 303. D. Dragic. A study on the problem of medical evacuation service in partisan action. p. 307. I. Levi. With the wounded partisans from Grmec to Visocina (in Bosnia) during the fourth German offensive. p. 318. D. Straus. Pharmaceutical services of the operative group at Una River in 1944-45. p. 323. M. Duic. A study on the procedures used to diagnose kala azar and on the morphology of Leishmania donovani. p. 327. D. Tav. A case of nodular reticulo-endotheliosis in kala azar. p. 332. I. Kovanjko. An outbreak of dysentery in the garrison of Cakovec in the winter 1951. p. 334.

Srpska akademija nauka. Odeljenje medicinskih nauka. GLAS. Beograd. [Papers of the Medical Sciences Section of the Serbian Academy of Sciences] Contains regularly: Summaries in western languages.

Vol. 3, 1951.

Contents:-C. Simic. A new type of Rhabditiis, an unusual parasite of the female genital organs. p. 1. K. Sahovic. The effect of low and optimum temperatures on the transplanting of sarcomata by cancerous substances. p. 5. K. Todorovic. Antibiotic power of the cephalorachidian liquid in the case of tuberculosis meningitis treated by streptomycine. p. 15. M. Anaf. Transplanting of endocrine glands. Transplanting of surrenal glands. Graft of the endocrine gland in the eye. p. 33. V. Arnovljjevic. The effect of the removal of surrenal glands on the pressure of cephalorachidian liquid in the dog. p. 39. H. Hadziselimovic. Nervous cutaneous femoris dorsalis et ansae glutaee. p. 41. V. Zivkovic. A study on the biology of the "fly of Golubac." p. 65. T. Simic. Resistance of the typhus and paratyphoid bacteria against staphylococcus. p. 7. M. Durisic. Is neutralization of the tubercular allergic reaction obtainable in guinea pigs treated with streptomycine? p. 77. C. Simic. A contribution to the knowledge of Phlebotomus fauna in Yugoslavia. p. 81. K. Todorovic. Experiences in treating tubercular meningitis by under-occipital injections of small doses of streptomycine. p. 87. V. Popovic. The effect of hypothermia on the retention and the evolution of the transplanted sarcoma. p. 99. K. Sahovic. Some results that ensue from feeding with cancerous substances. p. 107. M. Anaf. Transplanting of endocrine glands. Transplanting of surrenal glands. The effect of low temperature on the graft. Comparison between auto-transplantation and homo-transplantation. p. 117. K. Sahovic. The anatomico-pathologic lesions of tubercular meningitis treated by streptomycine. p. 123.

15. TECHNOLOGY

ELEKTROTEHNIŠKI VESTNIK. (Elektrotehniška sekcija društva inženirjev in tehnikov FLR Jugoslavije in elektrotehniških obrti v Sloveniji) Ljubljana. [Monthly journal of the Electrical Engineering Section of the Yugoslav Society of Engineers and Technicians and of the Electrical Industries of Slovenia. Articles classified according to Decimal Classification]

Contains regularly: For younger cadres; Reports; Information on electrical engineering practices; Curiosities from technology and economy; International conferences; New books and periodicals; Provisions and regulations; Abstracts in English, French, and Russian.

Vol. 19, no. 2-3, 1951.

Contents:-E. Verc. Annual report. p. 33. E. Montina. The greatest spans. p. 33. E. Hofler. Long distance transmission between the hydroelectric station at Savica and Mt. Komna. p. 37. A. Strojnik. EAST EUROPEAN ACCESSIONS LIST

Vol. 1, No. 11

SEPTEMBER 1952

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
WASHINGTON: 1952

Introduction

The East European Accessions List is a record of Eastern European monographic and serial publications issued since January 1, 1939, and currently received by the Library of Congress. Imprints of the following countries as well as publications issued elsewhere in the language of these countries are included:

Albania	Latvia*
Bulgaria	Lithuania*
Czechoslovakia	Poland
Estonia*	Rumania
Hungary	Yugoslavia

Publications in Russian are excluded since they are listed in the Monthly List of Russian Accessions. Newspapers currently received will be listed in an annual supplement.

Arrangement of entries: Entries are arranged by country in separate lists of monographs and periodicals. Monographs in series will be entered only in the list of monographs. Both monographic and periodical entries are grouped under general subjects in the following order based on the Library of Congress Classification:

- | | |
|-------------------------------|---|
| 1. General Works | 10. Fine Arts |
| 2. Philosophy and Religion | 11. Language and Literature |
| 3. History | 12. Science |
| 4. Geography and Anthropology | 13. Medicine |
| 5. Social Sciences | 14. Agriculture—Plant and Animal Industry |
| 6. Political Science | 15. Technology |
| 7. Law | 16. Military and Naval Sciences |
| 8. Education | 17. Bibliography and Library Science |
| 9. Music | |

Information provided: Each monograph is listed in the original language or in transliteration, followed by a translation of the title or an annotation in English descriptive of the publication.

The entries for periodicals follow the A. L. A. Cataloging Rules for Author and Title Entries and are in the original language or in transliteration. The name of the issuing body is provided in parentheses if not apparent from the title. A translation of the title, or an annotation descriptive of the periodical, its frequency of issue, and a note indicating regularly included features are provided in English. This is followed by a list of contents in English translation for each issue received. This contents note consists of each author's last name and initials, followed by an English translation of the title and the page citation. Free rather than exact translations are used whenever necessary to reflect as accurately as possible the nature of the article. Regularly included features listed in the entry and articles of relatively little importance are omitted from the contents.

The East European Accessions List is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Price, 30 cents a copy; subscription price, $3.00 a year domestic, $4.00 a year foreign.

* To be included as soon as staff is available.

EAST EUROPEAN ACCESSIONS LIST

Vol. 1, No. 12

OCTOBER 1952

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
WASHINGTON: 1952

Introduction

The East European Accessions List is a record of Eastern European monographic and publications issued since January 1, 1939, and currently received by the Library of Congress. Imprints of the following countries as well as publications issued elsewhere in the language of these countries are included:

Albania	Latvia*
Bulgaria	Lithuania*
Czechoslovakia	Poland
Estonia*	Rumania
Hungary	Yugoslavia

Publications in Russian are excluded since they are listed in the Monthly List of Russian Publications. Newspapers currently received will be listed in an annual supplement.

Arrangement of entries: Entries are arranged by country in separate lists of monographs and periodicals. Monographs in series will be entered only in the list of monographs. Monographic and periodical entries are grouped under general subjects in the following order based on the Library of Congress Classification:

- | | |
|-------------------------------|---|
| 1. General Works | 10. Fine Arts |
| 2. Philosophy and Religion | 11. Language and Literature |
| 3. History | 12. Science |
| 4. Geography and Anthropology | 13. Medicine |
| 5. Social Sciences | 14. Agriculture—Plant and Animal Industry |
| 6. Political Science | 15. Technology |
| 7. Law | 16. Military and Naval Sciences |
| 8. Education | 17. Bibliography and Library Science |
| 9. Music | |

Information provided: Each monograph is listed in the original language or in translation, followed by a translation of the title or an annotation in English descriptive of the publication.

The entries for periodicals follow the A. L. A. Cataloging Rules for Author and Title Entries and are in the original language or in transliteration. The name of the issuing body is provided in parentheses if not apparent from the title. A translation of the title, or an annotation descriptive of the periodical, its frequency of issue, and a note indicating regularly included features are provided in English. This is followed by a list of contents in English translation for each issue received. This contents note consists of each author's last name and initials, followed by an English translation of the title and the page citation. Free rather than exact translations are used whenever necessary to reflect as accurately as possible the nature of the article. Regularly included features listed in the entry and articles of relatively little importance omitted from the contents.

The East European Accessions List is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Price, 30 cents a copy; subscription price, $3.00 a year domestic, $4.00 a year foreign.

* To be included as soon as staff is available.

EAST EUROPEAN ACCESSIONS LIST

Vol. 1, No. 13

NOVEMBER 1952

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
WASHINGTON: 1952

Introduction

The East European Accessions List is a record of Eastern European monographic and serial publications issued since January 1, 1939, and currently received by the Library of Congress. Imprints of the following countries as well as publications issued elsewhere in the languages of these countries are included:

Albania	Latvia*
Bulgaria	Lithuania*
Czechoslovakia	Poland
Estonia*	Romania
Hungary	Yugoslavia

Publications in Russian are excluded since they are listed in the Monthly List of Russian Acquisitions. Newspapers currently received will be listed in an annual supplement.

Arrangement of entries: Entries are arranged by country in separate lists of monographs and periodicals. Monographs in series will be entered only in the list of monographs. Both monographic and periodical entries are grouped under general subjects in the following order based on the Library of Congress Classification:

- | | |
|-------------------------------|---|
| 1. General Works | 10. Fine Arts |
| 2. Philosophy and Religion | 11. Language and Literature |
| 3. History | 12. Science |
| 4. Geography and Anthropology | 13. Medicine |
| 5. Social Sciences | 14. Agriculture—Plant and Animal Industry |
| 6. Political Science | 15. Technology |
| 7. Law | 16. Military and Naval Sciences |
| 8. Education | 17. Bibliography and Library Science |
| 9. Music | |

Information provided: Each monograph is listed in the original language or in transliteration, followed by a translation of the title or an annotation in English descriptive of the publication.

The entries for periodicals follow the A. L. A. Cataloging Rules for Author and Title Entries and are in the original language or in transliteration. The name of the issuing body provided in parentheses if not apparent from the title. A translation of the title, or an annotation descriptive of the periodical, its frequency of issue, and a note indicating regularly included features are provided in English. This is followed by a list of contents in English translation for each issue received. This contents note consists of each author's last name and initials, followed by an English translation of the title and the page citation. Free rather than exact translations are used whenever necessary to reflect as accurately as possible the nature of the article. Regularly included features listed in the entry and articles of relatively little importance omitted from the contents.

The East European Accessions List is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Price, 30 cents a copy; subscription price, $3.00 a year domestic, $4.00 a year foreign.

* To be included as soon as staff is available.

EAST EUROPEAN ACCESSIONS LIST

Vol. 1, No. 14

DECEMBER 1952

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
WASHINGTON: 1953

Introduction

The East European Accessions List is a record of Eastern European monographic and serial publications issued since January 1, 1939, and currently received by the Library of Congress. Imprints of the following countries as well as publications issued elsewhere in the languages of these countries are included:

Albania	Latvia*
Bulgaria	Lithuania*
Czechoslovakia	Poland
Estonia*	Rumania
Hungary	Yugoslavia

Publications in Russian are excluded since they are listed in the Monthly List of Russian Accessions. Newspapers currently received will be listed in an annual supplement.

Arrangement of entries: Entries are arranged by country in separate lists of monographs and periodicals. Monographs in series will be entered only in the list of monographs. Both monographic and periodical entries are grouped under general subjects in the following order, based on the Library of Congress Classification:

- | | |
|-------------------------------|--|
| 1. General Works | 10. Fine Arts |
| 2. Philosophy and Religion | 11. Language and Literature |
| 3. History | 12. Science |
| 4. Geography and Anthropology | 13. Medicine |
| 5. Social Sciences | 14. Agriculture—Plant and Animal Industry |
| 6. Political Science | 15. Technology |
| 7. Law | 16. Military and Naval Sciences |
| 8. Education | 17. Bibliography and Library Science |
| 9. Music | |

Information provided: Each monograph is listed in the original language or in transliteration, followed by a translation of the title or an annotation in English descriptive of the publication.

The entries for periodicals follow the A. L. A. Cataloging Rules for Author and Title Entries and are in the original language or in transliteration. The name of the issuing body is provided in parentheses if not apparent from the title. A translation of the title, or an annotation descriptive of the periodical, its frequency of issue, and a note indicating regularly included features are provided in English. This is followed by a list of contents in English translation for each issue received. This contents note consists of each author's last name and initials, followed by an English translation of the title and the page citation. Free rather than exact translated whenever necessary to reflect as accurately as possible the nature of the article. Included features listed in the entry and articles of relatively little importance are in the contents.

and its management; Letters to the Editor; Development of industrial and labor relations abroad; Communications.

Vol. 2, no. 7, July 1952.

Contents:-A. Zebrowski. Eighth anniversary of the Polish Committee of National Liberation. p. 1. Conferences on cooperative factory production. p. 5. A. Hoffmanowa. The plan should be carried out in full. p. 9. J. Bednarowicz. The report, submitted at the time due, as a way to the right analysis of factory production. p. 13. J. Frackiewicz. The role of the chief accountant in an establishment. p. 15. B. Moszkowicz. How to carry out a plan for decreasing cost of production. p. 17. J. Mieczynski. The factories in the Katowice industrial region attempt to decrease the cost of production. p. 18. A. Fortuna. The exhibition of craftsmen's work in the Cracow, Kielce, and Rzeszow provinces. p. 20. M. Caban. How the utilization of waste in a chemical industry increases the profits. p. 22. J. Ostrowski. Let us mechanize transport in factories. p. 24. J. Kowalski. A few remarks on the rational exploitation of machines. p. 25.

Vol. 2, no. 8, August 1952.

Contents:-On the fulfillment of recommendations suggested by the 7th meeting of the Central Committee of the United Polish Workers' Party. p. 1. M. Bialek. Planning the supply for small industry according to the present rules. p. 2. J. Bednarowicz. Planning for the provision of credit. p. 5. J. Frackiewicz. The role of contests in the work of bookkeepers. p. 7. S. Zmijewski. For more care in proper storage of goods. p. 9. T. Tomaszewicz. The meeting of economic activists attached to the industry of medical equipment. p. 11. L. Tarczynski. Consulting the workers of the ship equipment industry. p. 12. B. Mirocki. Participation of small industry in the construction of the Marszalkowska District Housing Project. p. 13. W. Smolenski. Problem of calculating net cost and prices in cooperative production. p. 17. T. Chmielewski. Current methods of tightening by means of gushing. p. 19. W. Horodyski. Impregnation of poles; importance in national economy. p. 20. L. Owczarek. The utilization of osier bark in the production of thread. p. 22. M. Lewandowski. How to reduce coal consumption by 70%. p. 23. Let us know the outstanding rationalizers. p. 24. Z. Gnatowska. A few remarks on training the staff in small industry. p. 27. J. Kolczynski. Let us train bookkeepers right now, within factories and on the job. p. 28. Training disabled men during 1952-53. p. 29. J. G. Control, factory, and trade-marks. p. 30. L. Olszewski. Facilitating the payment of taxes for the service co-operatives. p. 31. On the knowledge of statutory rules. p. 31.

Vol. 2, no. 9, September 1952.

Contents:-The day of election will be the day of victory for the Polish nation. p. 1. P. Zelicki. Some problems on craftsmen's production according to the guiding principles of the 7th meeting of the Central Committee of the United Polish Workers' Party. p. 2. The fulfillment of the plan by nationalized small industry during the first half of 1952. p. 6. To fulfill the plan is the main task during the second half of 1952. p. 8. How workers in small industry understood the suggestions of the 7th meeting of the Central Committee of the United Polish Workers' Party. p. 11. S. Morawski. Combined reports on finance and production. p. 13. J. Niemiec. Proper organization of sales in the service of production.

p. 15. R. Trampowski. Better utilization of odds and ends of raw materials in the cooperative industry. p. 18. J. Small industry initiates the production of highest quality goods. p. 19. J. Siwkowski. The use of trade-marks in small industry. p. 20. Z. Meissner. The management of the metal goods industry struggles for fulfillment of the first Half-Year Plan. p. 22. W. Stattler. Service and maintenance of steam boilers. p. 23. W. Kwiatkowski. Importance of culture and order in the place of work. p. 25. Men who gained the mark of distinction as rationalizers of production. p. 26. Leaders and rationalizers who distinguished themselves in building the Marszalkowska District Housing Project. p. 27. Podgorzle, the town of children's gaiety. p. 30. J. G. The professional qualifications of managers in factories producing consumer goods. p. 32. T. The production of refrigerators. p. 33. Z. Zurawski. Fishermen's cooperative in their effort for fulfillment of the plan in 1952. p. 34. T. Kielce's industrial unit "Wietrzni" struggles against difficulties. p. 36. T. Lublin's scale factory has built a new production hall. p. 37. S. Mastalski. About razor blades, the team producing them, and difficulties in the work. p. 38.

Vol. 2, no. 10, October 1952.

Contents:-On the coming election. p. 1. Soviet nations build communism. p. 5. Tasks of handicraft production reviewed in the guiding principles stated by the 7th convention of the Central Committee of the United Polish Workers' Party. p. 6. Conference of handicraft activists, arranged by the Ministry of Small Industries and Handicrafts. p. 12. W. Swietlik. Quality of goods, a main factor for increasing consumption. p. 13. S. Prochnik. Increased production of investment goods for farming. p. 15. W. Flecki. How to economize with left-over materials. p. 16. H. Landesberg. Marginal remarks on the regulation of wages in the cooperative industry. p. 19. Z. Lancmanski. Increased employment of disabled men, new task of trade-unions. p. 22. W. Iwaszkiewicz. More care for craftsmen less adapted to the circumstances of work. p. 23. Conference of economic activists arranged by the Ministry of Metal, Fancy and Household Goods. p. 24. B. Adamus. Reporting on the budgets of cooperative productive units. p. 26. The results of the contest in the handicraft industry during the month of April 1952. p. 27. J. G. Training and employment of youth in productive units. p. 29. New principles supporting the activities of technological and rationalizer clubs. p. 30. R. Noszczyk. Unbreakable glass. p. 31. S. Stotka. We should economize on non-iron metals. p. 32. The rally of young activists is being held in Warsaw. p. 34. J. Mieczynski. The realization of investment plans in productive units in the Danzig region. p. 36. t. Gizeckie sawmills as the models to follow. p. 37. t. The Mragowski productive unit should overcome difficulties. p. 38. t. The Olszyn exhibition as a means for greater activity in neglected economic regions. p. 39. Method of production control as applied by the Russian management. p. 42.

Vol. 2, no. 11, November 1952.

DROGOWNICTWO. (Wydawnictwa Komunikacyjno) Warszawa. [Monthly journal on road construction, maintenance, repair and finances]

Contains regularly: Organization, standardization and improvements; Polish standards; Research; Review of the Soviet periodicals; Review of foreign periodicals; Bibliography on road construction; Criticism; Notes; Letters.

Vol. 7, no. 1, January 1952.

Contents: W. Górzalski. Reorganization of public road service. p. 2. I. Borowski. The density of the road network. p. 3. J. Miedziński. In the right direction for workers' inventiveness. p. 11. W. Maciejewicz. Applying F. Kowalev's method to road construction. p. 14. S. Rola. Surface, or pavement? p. 18. W. Antek. Remarks on drawing up production and financial plans by construction-assembling corporations. p. 19. J. Buriak. Legal foundations for the reorganization of road economy. p. 20. Automatic snow loader. p. 24. Mechanical whirling-wind-tube ploughs employed for clearing snowbound roads. p. 24.

Vol. 7, no. 7, July 1952.

Contents: The 8th anniversary of People's Poland. p. 177. J. Quirini. Prefabricated concrete road bridges. p. 178. Z. Skarzynski. Reducing dust on roads with run-down surfaces. p. 181. J. Szach. Possibility of improving third class roads by using reinforcing mixtures. p. 183. M. Brzostowski. Technical control over investment road works in the Soviet Union. p. 188. The ground work and surface; control and procedure of public works. p. 190. J. Miedziński. Organizing work sites. p. 193. S. Mieczyslawski. Safe surfaces for road bridges. p. 196. W. Skolimowski. Research on road techniques conducted by the Institute of Road and Airfield Construction of the Warsaw Polytechnic School, in 1952. p. 198. Z. Skarzynski. Construction of a stone-concrete surface in the so-called "Kongkreit" system. p. 207. J. Purzycki. On road construction experiments. p. 208.

GAZ, WODA, TECHNIKA SANITARNA. (Polskie Zrzeszenie Gazowników, Wodoociągowców i Techników Sanitarnych) Warszawa. [Monthly organ of the Polish Association of Gas, Water and Sanitation Engineers]

Contains regularly: Practical news; News from the foreign press.

Vol. 26, no. 2, February 1952.

Contents: J. Wierzbicki. Sewage disposal by land irrigation. p. 34. L. Obidowicz. Safety valves in gas installations. p. 36. Z. Mrazek. Discharge of waste from gas plants in the light of the laws in force. p. 45. J. Kłosowski. Concrete basements as resistance factors for the arch of water pipes. p. 48. K. Dohnalik. Rational economy of electricity in water-supply and sewage plants. p. 50. A. Blatko. Methods of protecting water pipes against soil corrosion. p. 52.

Vol. 26, no. 3, March 1952.

Contents: L. Obidowicz. Blanking gas and natural gas. p. 65. A. Baranski. Analysis of costs in the Warsaw gas plant. p. 69. S. Kolodziejczyk. Experiments in fermenting the dampness of cellars. p. 73. W. Hermanowicz. Evaluation of the grease content in sewage using "scent-extraction" methods. p. 75. J. Felcz. Water meters as fundamental factors of an economical water works administration. p. 79. E. Weglorz. Ashes and slag. p. 85.

Vol. 26, no. 4, April 1952.

Contents: A. Baranski. Controlling the execution of production plans in the gas industry. p. 97. W. Chrastar. Water hammer in water pipelines. p. 100. W. Skarzewski. Possibilities of mechanizing tunnel construction. p. 107. M. Nierojewski. Radiant heating in industrial establishments. p. 111. Z. Gierwat. Flooding in the Gdansk District water system. p. 118.

Vol. 26, no. 5, May 1952.

Contents: A. Hubicka. How to develop the inventive spirit among employees. p. 130. A. Szpilowicz. The use of gas in a central coal economy. p. 134. I. Churkowska. Boron in Poland's water supply. p. 141. Z. Gierwatowski. The use of air conditioning equipment. p. 144.

Vol. 26, no. 6, June 1952.

Contents: J. Cabański. Pollution of the Dnipro River. p. 162. J. Kowalski. Coke gas and municipal gas as sources of highly valuable fuel. p. 168. Z. Gierwatowski. The elements of air conditioning installations. p. 170. S. Wojnarowski. The mill scale of water pipes. p. 176. T. Mielnicki. Coal ashes. p. 180.

Vol. 26, no. 7-8, July-August 1952.

Contents: M. Nowak. Experiments in sewage purification using flotation without detergents. p. 184. S. Wojnarowski. Substitutes for water and sewage pipe connections. p. 190. H. Działowski. Removing benzol from gas using activated carbon. p. 204. W. Weglorski. Calculating the diameter of one-pipe heating circuits. p. 208. J. Kłosowski. The treatment of paper mill wastes. p. 212. G. Wasylaszko. Modern achievements in gas production. p. 215. J. Wierzbicki. Year-round use of sewage in agriculture. p. 222. W. Skarzewski. Pump turbines for dirty sewage. p. 229. J. Felcz. Development of German water measuring systems on the basis of projected new standards, DIN 5260 and 19625. p. 230. T. Mielnicki. Chemical analysis of coal. p. 232. A. H. Causes of employee inactivity. p. 235. W. Skarzewski. Mechanization of narrow gauge systems on a small scale. p. 235. A. H. Improvements in gas measuring. p. 238. M. G. Transformation of a rapid filter into a filter of the AKU system. p. 239.

Vol. 20, no. 9, September 1952.

Contents:-A. Epsztein, Normal methods of gas combustion, p. 242. A. Jagielski, Coal samples from the Rybnar coal mine, p. 247. K. Starmach, Biological analysis of water and provisions for doing it correctly, p. 250. T. Gabryszewski, Estimating indoor water piping, p. 255. W. Skoraszewski, A revolving bolt with delayed action, p. 262. W. Skoraszewski, Standardization of pipe tighteners, p. 263. E. G., Elimination of lead tighteners from water pipes, p. 263. K. Zahoda, Calculating the compactness of high elasticity gaseometers, p. 264. J. Białwidowa, Basic information on microbes and water purification, p. 266. E. Goracki, Water chlorination as a safety measure for the worker, p. 269.

Vol. 20, no. 11, November 1952.

Contents:-The month of friendship, p. 305. J. Głuszowski, Problems of natural gas exploitation, transportation, and utilization in Soviet technical literature, p. 306. R. Zygmunt, Sanitary equipment of towns and technical progress, p. 309. J. Jasi, Influence of red lead painted tanks on the lead content in water, p. 316. E. Szmigda, Technical problems of laundering, p. 318. L. Porowski, Methods of controlling heat delivery for municipalities served by distant heating systems, p. 324.

GOSPODARKA WODNA. (Naczelna Organizacja Techniczna) Warszawa. [Monthly journal on water economy and engineering issued by the National Technical Organization]

Contains regularly: Bibliography; Notes.

Vol. 12, no. 4, April 1952.

Contents:-S. Ihnatowicz, The Danube-Black Sea Canal, p. 122. K. Chomicz, An analysis of rainfall formulas applied to hydrotechny, p. 130. Z. Mikulski, An investigation of methods of establishing the coefficient of soil filtration, p. 131. T. Tillinger, The mechanization of control work on the Wiala River, p. 136. C. Zakaszewski, The problem of the irrigation of meadows, p. 141. J. Ostrowski, Guiding principles of the agricultural management of the Kuwasy March, p. 146. J. Ostrowski, Calculations on the irrigation of meadows in the Nurczyk River Valley, p. 148. W. Skoraszewski, Constructing a canal of reinforced concrete, p. 153. H. Witkowski, The struggle for economizing on nonferrous metals, p. 155. Z. Wierzbicki, Saving water in reservoirs and the problem of forecasting on rainfall and floods, p. 156.

Vol. 12, no. 5, May 1952.

Contents:-L. Skibniowski, Water management in the German People's Republic; Five-Year Plan, p. 163. W. Skoraszewski, A town water-catchment works, p. 166. J. Cwikiewicz, Testing methods of the coefficient of soil filtration, p. 168. J. Ostrowski, Spring irrigation of green areas, p. 170. A. Buchowski, River regulation as applied to the needs of agriculture, p. 172. J. Liebfeld, The standardization of technical projects of water supply and sewer systems, p. 176. W. Kollis, Very fine sand as a base in hydraulic engineering work, in the light of recent research, p. 182. K. Puczyński, Sinking reinforced concrete walls in very watery soil, p. 185. J. Wierzbicki, Irrigation of natural pasture land by sewerages, p. 189. L. Skibniowski, The furrow system of town-sewerage irrigation, p. 192.

Vol. 12, no. 6, June 1952.

Contents:-K. Matul, The present state of progress in water management in Polish agriculture, p. 184. S. Bac, Guiding principles in the irrigation of meadows and pasture land, p. 198. J. Grzymala, The fertilization and cultivation of meadows and pasture land, p. 204. M. Stangenberg, The fertilizing properties of river waters, p. 209. E. Kulwiec, The training of water management staff in agriculture in Poland, p. 215. Z. Sochon, Tasks and organization of the Polish Office of Water Management, p. 220. K. Sarnecki, Technical means and agricultural measures in the struggle against floods, p. 233. F. Rosinski, Some problems of ground drainage in Poland, p. 224. J. Kwapiszewski, Mole drainage in Poland, p. 226. J. Wierzbicki, Artificial rain arrangements in Poland, p. 231. B. Czerny, Problems on the standardization of water-management work in agriculture, p. 235. J. Patuszynski, The regulation of small rivers in mining regions, p. 236.

Vol. 12, no. 7, July 1952.

Contents:-J. Matuszewicz, The problem of water cadaster in Poland, p. 242. S. Turczynowicz, The role of the staff for the improvement and protection of nature, p. 245. C. Trzeciak, A bureau for water management from the point of view of communal problems, p. 247. J. Pronczuk, Some remarks on the irrigation of meadows, p. 249. K. Debski, The problem of a choice of the type of barrage for sub-Carpathian rivers, p. 252. F. Zawistowski, Guiding principles for the agricultural management of the Kuwasy marsh, p. 254. W. Kollis, Very fine sand as a base in hydraulic engineering work in the light of recent research, p. 259. W. Potz, A practical apparatus for preliminary work in hydraulic engineering, p. 264. L. Skibniowski, New achievements in the agricultural utilization of sewages, p. 266. J. Sierociński, Some remarks on the improvements in the Ner River Valley, p. 269. F. Patora, Results of experiments and observations on the irrigated meadows in the Ner River Valley, p. 273.

Vol. 12, no. 8, August 1952.

Contents:-J. Pronczuk, The problem of permanent meadows and pasture land, p. 282. K. Chomicz, The formula of maximum rainfall in Poland, p. 289. J. Lambor, Observations on R. Chomicz's articles on standardizing the measurement of rainfall in hydrotechny, p. 293. O. Dub, Intensity of rainfall as a basis for the calculation of a sewage system, Tr. from the Slovak, p. 296. K. Chomicz, Answers to the remarks of J. Lambor and O. Dub, p. 296. J. Kwapiszewski, Construction of abutted dams without reinforced heads, p. 299. M. Mazur, Study of water supply of the cable railway station on Kasprowy Wierch Mountain, p. 303. S. Wojnarowicz, Lowering of the ground water level by means of filters, p. 307.

Vol. 12, no. 10, October 1952.

Contents:-Great days. p. 361. A. Riedel. The Volga-Don Canal as an element of a great plan. p. 363. Z. Dzielowski. Prospects of progress in water-engineering construction in the light of the latest Soviet achievements. p. 366. J. Ostromecki. Single changes in the elements of water balance in a basin influenced by field engineering operations. p. 370. K. Debski. Evaporation from the open surface of water reservoirs. p. 375. J. Matusiewicz. Principles of preparing the bottom of a water reservoir for inundation. p. 378. p. 378. Z. Zarnecki. The filtration of water through the dikes in the light of Soviet investigations. p. 385. J. Wokroj. Guides for the building of bridge profiles. p. 392. R. Stobnicki. The mechanization of water-engineering works and the lines of development. p. 395.

HORYZONTY TECHNIKI. (Naczelna Organizacja Techniczna) Warszawa. [Monthly devoted to the popularization of technics and inventions]

Contains regularly: Technics in the wide world; Polish workers' share in technical progress; Corner for the young constructor; Mail box.

Vol. 4, no. 1, January 1951.

Contents:-S. Kasperkiewicz. Reports from cement factories. p. 1. W. Rychter. Safety measures in railroad operations. J. Lutostawski. Different methods of casting. p. 13. W. Urbanowicz. Construction of seagoing vessels. p. 18. W. Zonn. Everyday physics. p. 24. A. Bibillo. "Electronic nose" saves workers' lives. p. 28. Supplement. Author index and table of contents for the year 1950.

Vol. 4, nos. 2-4, February-April 1951.

Vol. 5, no. 1, January 1952.

Contents:-J. Borowski. Natural gas. p. 2. S. Gorecki. Widia steel or Carbology? p. 7. T. Chmielewski. Technology on preparing cans for preserves. p. 10. Scientific fiction. p. 14. S. K. Physics of low temperature. Tr. from the Russian. p. 15. H. Laczynski. Socialist care of equipment. p. 21. W. Zonn. Physics for everyday. p. 22. L. Zycki. The new moon. p. 25. List of publications on technics. p. 30. Polish worker is a co-operator in progress. p. 31.

Vol. 5, nos. 3-9, March-September 1952.

HUTNIK. (Panstwowe Wydawnictwa Techniczne) Katowice. [Monthly journal on metallurgy. Contains also a supplement the bulletin of the Central Metallurgical Institute, Główny Instytut Metalurgii]

Contains regularly: News; Bibliography on metallurgy.

no. 1, January 1952.

Contents:-M. Schneider. The practicability of a new pouring of steel. p. 1. M. Markuszewicz. Research on metal transformer sheets. p. 7. Attendance and supervision of gas furnaces. p. 15.

Vol. 19, no. 2, February 1952.

Contents:-E. Terlecki. New views on heating steel for hot-work in a plastic form. p. 37. C. Murski. Classification and planning of time in rolling-mill departments. p. 42. E. Zmihorski. Main lines on construction of heat-treatment departments in machine shops. p. 48.

Vol. 19, no. 3, March 1952.

Contents:-I. Ingłot. Quick methods for the analysis of steel. p. 77. S. Gregorczyk. Photometric method for determining the existence of tungsten and silicon in steel. p. 80. W. Klimecki. New applications of spectroscopy in metallurgy. p. 86. K. Schmidt. The use of polarography in the examination of metals. p. 90. K. Rutkowski. Methods and apparatus for the control of gas content in metals. p. 95.

Vol. 19, no. 5, May 1952.

Contents:-W. Gryksztas. May 1st, the holiday of labor. p. 157. T. Senkara. The transfer of heat into heated material. p. 159. Z. Jaglarz. Operating plate mills under the most economical conditions. p. 168. F. Staub. Equipment for the electrolytic polishing and etching of metallographic samples. p. 174.

Vol. 19, no. 7-8, July-August 1952.

Contents:-W. Gryksztas. The July manifesto. p. 237. S. Olenski. The 7th plenary meeting of the Polish United Workers' Party. p. 239. A. Ofiok. Technical progress in the field of blast furnace plants during the last ten years. p. 242. F. Byrtus. Suitability of coke for use in blast furnaces from the point of view of testing methods. p. 253. B. Sewerynski. Results of research on the sintering of iron ore and its development during recent years. p. 280. B. Sewerynski. Research on the sintering of ores in Sweden. p. 288. B. Sewerynski. Preparation of ores for sintering on a fire grate. p. 271. M. Orman. Zirconium, its properties and alloys. p. 273. Z. Bojarski. Radioactive isotopes and their application in the field of industrial materials. p. 275. W. T. Laboratory for research on the resistance of metals in the Institute of Metallurgy. Suppl. p. 3. J. T. Research on the influence of caustic magnesite in sintering typical Polish fireproof clays. Suppl. p. 28. Z. W. The scientific and technical conference of Polish rolling-mill workers on May 13, 1952. Suppl. p. 30.

Vol. 19, no. 9, September 1952.

Contents:-J. Plaskowski. The problem of the author in Polish technical literature. p. 297. J. Czarny. Executive planning in steel plants. p. 300. L. Tarnowski. Voltage and induction motors in metallurgy. p. 306. Z. Maslanka-Orman. Investigation of the process for producing high purity aluminum by electric refining. p. 312. W. Szymborski. Refractory materials. p. 317. Z. Gorny. Tin restoration using bronze Babbitt metals. p. 318. E. Zalesinski. Tests of zinc concentrate reduction with methane. p. 320. B. Razumowski. Molybdenum as a refractory material. p. 321.

INZYNIERIA I BUDOWNICTWO. (Naczelna Organizacja Techniczna i Polski Związek Inżynierów i Techników Budowlanych) Warszawa. [Monthly organ of the Central Technical Organization and the Polish Association of Building Engineers and Technicians. Contains also a supplement, the bulletin of the Institute of Building.]

Vol. 9, no. 8, August 1952.

Contents:—The Marszałkowska Housing Development. p. 250. T. Niczewski. Glued wooden constructions. p. 251. S. Hempel. Nailed wooden constructions used in industrial building. p. 255. W. Danilecki. Computation for masonry constructions on the basis of ultimate conditions. p. 262. W. Kuczyński. Correlation between the resistance of cylindrical and cube concrete. p. 269. Z. Kotarski. Reed plates and their application in building. p. 274. T. Ciszowski. Bending the caisson through sinking. p. 279. Scientific-technical conference of the Institute of Building Technics concerned with wood economy in building, and held in Warsaw, June 5-7, 1952. Suppl. p. 21-A.

Vol. 9, no. 9, September 1952.

Contents:—The 7th meeting of the Central Committee of the Polish United Workers' Party. p. 281. W. Michniewicz. Modernization in designing wooden roof trusses. p. 282. I. Kisiel. Correct dimensions of power-hammer foundations. p. 288. R. Dąbrowski. Some remarks concerning computations of the stresses on tunnel walls considered as arcs, under normal conditions. p. 292. J. Kaliciński. Mechanization of the Warsaw subway construction. p. 301. S. Kajfasz. Reinforcing beds. p. 25-A.

Vol. 9, no. 10, October 1952.

Contents:—On the eve of the elections for the Diet. p. 311. The laureates of state awards for achievements in science and technology. p. 312. C. Klos. The influence of temperature changes on the walls of silo cells. p. 313. T. Niczewski. Plywood construction. (Cont.) p. 315. J. Lempiński. Reinforced concrete arcs. p. 323. W. Danilecki. Computing masonry construction on the basis of the limit of strength. p. 325. W. Wachniewski. Collapsible forms employed in building concrete walls. p. 327. J. Czulk. Simplified computations on the framework beneath surface coverings. p. 329. R. Dąbrowski. Some remarks concerning computations of the stresses on tunnel walls considered as arcs, under normal conditions. (Cont.) p. 333. B. Kopyciński. Rationalizing the use of cement for construction. p. 337.

KINOTECHNIK. (Filmowa Agencja Wydawnicza)

Krakow. [Monthly on the technological aspects of cinematography, issued by the Moving-Pictures Publishing Agency]

Contains regularly: Publications review; Readers' letters and editor's answers.

Vol. 5, no. 45, April 1952.

Contents:—Vostro. Review of the work of the Technical Bureau of Cinematography. p. 867. B. Gliksmán. "Sercowka"; construction principles of a projector. p. 870. A. Trojanowski. Technological instruction in the Cinematographic Institute. p. 873. Mig. The movie gong. p. 874. B. G. The projection method of reading sound registration. p. 875. J. Wojciechowski. Production of the 16 mm. static projector. p. 876. T. Malecki. New methods of regulating sound dynamics. p. 878. S. Dykowski. Regeneration of silver from a used fixer. p. 882. R. Wajdowicz. The multichannel regulation of the color of sound. p. 884. J. Brzozowski. The problem of standardization in the construction of cinematographic apparatus. p. 886.

MATERIALY BUDOWLANE. (Naczelna Organizacja Techniczna) Warszawa. [Monthly journal devoted to problems of production and use of building materials, issued by the Central Organization of Technicians. Contains monthly supplement of the Technological Institute of Silicates (Instytut Technologii Krzemianow)]

Contains regularly: Miscellaneous; New publications; Bibliographical review of the Institute of the Technology of Silicates.

Vol. 7, no. 7-8, July-August 1952.

Contents:—Revival of a National Day. p. 193. S. Pyjor. "Siporex" and "Ytong", modern building materials. p. 194. T. Tyrowicz. Standardization of building stone. p. 205. A. Rusiecki. Faults in the ceramics for building. p. 207. K. Szmidt. Information concerning the organization of establishments in the building-materials industry. p. 213. E. Lebeda. Transporting bricks in containers. p. 217. J. Bielejec. Economic factors in light concrete. p. 219. N. H. Hryckiewicz. Building materials of flax fibers and gypsum. p. 222. K. Szonert. Price system and turnover of building materials. p. 227.

Vol. 7, no. 9, September 1952.

Contents:—The Constitution as testimony of national greatness. p. 233. J. Zawistowski. Jurassic limestone as facing material. p. 235. Z. Kotarski. Peat used as insulation. p. 236. S. Lewin. Integration of the annular kiln with the drying plant. p. 247. S. Pyjor. Heat losses of massive concrete roofs. p. 252. A. Czerwowski. Nonexploited building-stone deposits in Poland. p. 254. K. Szonert. Regional economy of building ceramics. p. 258.

MŁODY TECHNIK. (Nasza Księgarnia) Warszawa.

[A monthly magazine on technology for youth]

Contains regularly: In a few words; Technics in the Soviet Union; Sports and technology; Humor; Editor's answers; Chemical corner; Mathematical circle; What, how, why?

Vol. 2, nos. 10-22, 24; Jan. 15-July 31, Aug. 15, 1952.
Vol. 3, no. 1, 2; September, October 1952.

NAFTA. (Instytut Naftowy) Krakow. [M journal on petroleum issued by the Petr Institute]

Contains regularly: Reports of the institute, Current news; Oil statistics.

Vol. 1, nos. 2-7, July-December 1945.

Vol. 2, nos. 1-5, 7-9, 11, 12; January-May, July-September, November, December, 1946.

Vol. 3, nos. 3-8, 10-12; March-August, October-December 1947.

Vol. 7, no. 5, May 1951.

Contents:-Petroleum engineers and technicians in the struggle for peace and the Six-Year Plan. p. 121. J. Wojnar. The job of science in the Six-Year Plan for the petroleum industry. p. 122. S. Krimmer. Application of the "Es-Ka 2" boring apparatus for percussion drilling. p. 128. W. Kulczycki. Condensation in oil fields. (Cont.) p. 128. S. Ochęduszek. Calorimetric research on natural gas. p. 133. W. Dubis. Natural gas pipe burners. p. 137. H. Liander. Brief testing of oxidation resistance in transformer oil. p. 140. W. Zajeziński. Reduction of paraffin-oil, processing losses by means of new dewaxing methods. p. 147.

Vol. 7, no. 6, June 1951.

Contents:-Excerpts from the address of the Vice-Minister of Mines, B. Krupinski, at the meeting of former students of the Mining Academy. p. 153. W. Kulczycki. Condensation in oil fields. p. 154. J. Glogoczowski. The surface tension of Polish crude oils. p. 160. S. Ochęduszek. Calorimetric research on natural gas. p. 163. J. W. Some problems in technical science. p. 168. Z. Wilk. Drilling for crude oil and natural gas. p. 170.

Poland. Ministerstwo Przemysłu Ciekłego. PRACE GŁÓWNEGO INSTYTUTU ODLEWNICTWA. Katowice. [Papers on the works of the Polish Smelting Institute]

Contains regularly: Summaries in Russian and English.

No. 1, 1951.

Contents:-W. Loskiewicz. Characteristics of sulphuric matter in grey cast iron. p. 1. J. Piaskowski. Producing spheroid cast iron in a crucible furnace. p. 13. M. Misiąg. The modulus of elasticity of grey cast iron. p. 19. Z. Wertz. Research on the activation bentonite in Poland. p. 29. J. Piaskowski. Settling of cement in hypereutectic carbon steel. p. 43.

PRZEGŁAD BUDOWLANY. (Naczelna Organizacja Techniczna i Polski Związek Inżynierów i Techników) Warszawa. [Monthly on building, of the Main Technical Organization and the Polish Association of Engineers and Constructors]

Contains regularly: Experience and observation; New publications; Readers' letters; Building news; Patents, and organizational and technical improvements; Organizational life; Regulations and legal decisions; Bulletin of the Institute of Building Organization and Mechanization; Bibliography of building.

Vol. 24, no. 1, January 1952.

Contents:-S. Kurowski. Activity and organization of the government-owned construction enterprises. in 1951. p. 1. W. Iwanowski. Importance of the exhibition on construction engineering in Warsaw. p. 8. Z. M. Information on work in winter. p. 12.

T. Berens. Possibility of increasing the efficiency of digging machines. p. 14. W. Piasecki. Colored plaster. p. 16. T. Ciszewski. The reasons for caisson disease. p. 19.

Vol. 24, no. 2, February 1952.

Contents:-Estimating averages for winter work. p. 49. W. W. Michajłow. Houses with prefabricated plates and frames. Tr. from the Russian. p. 53. F. Esse. Physical and chemical influences on structures. p. 63. A. Sniłko-Pleszko. Industrializing installation work. p. 67. J. Grabczyk.
